

5th Annual Work-Based Foundational Skills Conference

Friday, November 15 | 8AM-3PM | WSU McGregor Memorial Conference Center

Practice-based Updates for Literacy, Skill development & Employment (P.U.L.S.E) is an interactive forum for practitioners and administrators in the field of adult education and literacy. Reading Works and Wayne State University's Harris Literacy Program created this holistic adult literacy professional development opportunity to provide research-based best practices in the field of adult literacy with an emphasis on reading, writing, math application, data interpretation, technology, integrated education and work readiness.

Programming includes an employer panel with Flagstar Bank, Walgreens, and Milton Manufacturing. The panel will share how they partner with adult education agencies to help their employees learn new skills to thrive at work.

There will be concurrent breakout sessions for participants to choose covering the following subjects:

- Digital literacy
- Making Adult Education Relevant for Working People
- The Essential Credential: a Faster Route to HSD/HSE
- Engaging adult learners through storytelling
- The power of the arts in the adult education classroom
- ESL and diversity in the workplace
- Trauma informed teaching
- Math strategies for everyone

Space is limited, reserve your seats today!!

https://whova.com/portal/registration/pcale_201911/

READING
WORKS

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY
Harris Literacy Program

KEYNOTE

JEFF DONOFRIO

State of Michigan, Director
Department of Labor and Economic Opportunity

REGISTRATION

Early Bird Registration is $50. Tickets include breakfast, lunch & parking.
Beginning November 1st
late registration is $65.

State Continuing Education Clock Hours
(SCECH) will be available for interested participants.